Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 07 February 2002 and 05 August 2002.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's election of alumina as the single component species in Paper No. 8 and 12 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. The steps of heating the precursor until a foam is formed and subsequently igniting are critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976). The instant disclosure does not provide any evidence that the nanoparticles of phase pure ceramic oxide can be formed without causing the foam (which is formed by heating the precursor) to ignite.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1754

In claim 1, it is unclear what is required by "single step process" as stated in the preamble of claim because the process is required to have 4 steps, i.e. step (a)-step (d); in step (a), it is unclear what is required by "the metal ions in stoichiometric ratio by dissolving their soluble salts in an organic solvent or in water" ("ions", "salts" in plural forms) because the claim is for producing "a single component system"; in step (b), there is no antecedent basis for "the charges of the acid"; in step (c) there is no antecedent for "the nitrate/ammonia content in the system"; step (d), there is no clear antecedent basis for "the system".

In claim 6, it is unclear if the "water insoluble metal salts" are required in addition to the water soluble salt. Also it is unclear if "salts" refers to different types of aluminum-containing salts or salts of two different metals. If the latter case is true, claim 6 is further indefinite because claim 1 is to a "single component system".

In claim 7, again, the term "salts" (plural form) is indefinite for the same reason as stated above.

In claim 8, there is no antecedent basis for "the water insoluble oxides and carbonates of the desired metal".

In claim 9, it is suggested that the Markush language be changed to the standard format of "from the group consisting of a, b, c, and z."

In claim 11, there is no antecedent basis for "the combustion".
